Jessica Nickloy of Etica Group Named NAWBO- Indianapolis President 2018-2019

Indianapolis, IN (June 28, 2018) – The Etica Group is pleased to announce that our president and CEO, Jessica Nickloy, will serve as the 2018-2019 president of the Indianapolis chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO).

“The responsibility to lead such a notably successful NAWBO chapter is something I take very seriously,” says Nickloy. Having been mentored by and worked closely with several of the previous NAWBO-Indianapolis presidents has provided great insight and collaborative energy that I look forward to sharing with all of our members.”

Etica Group is an Indiana based engineering, architecture, survey, construction inspection, and building envelope consulting firm. Working on some of the largest infrastructure projects in Indiana’s history, Nickloy has a firm understanding of relationship building and management, especially as it relates to state and local agencies. Her familiarity with many of these agencies stems from her company’s numerous certifications. Etica Group is certified with the State of Indiana, City of Indianapolis and the City of Ft. Wayne as a Women Business Enterprise (WBE), State of Indiana as a Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) and the City of Ft. Wayne as an Emerging Business Enterprise (EBE).

Nickloy is no stranger to taking on large-scale projects. Under Nickloy’s leadership and direction, Etica Group completed the acquisition and merger of PCS Engineers in April of 2017. This corporate acquisition increased Etica Group’s revenue and staff by nearly two-thirds overnight. Owners of both Etica Group and PCS Engineers had developed a long-standing relationship through their memberships with NAWBO.

“I have been a member of NAWBO for 10 years. The relationships and connections that I have gained from my NAWBO membership is something that I want to ensure each current and future member of NAWBO can build through their participation. It does not matter how large or small a company is, it matters how involved they become to drive the success of their business,” states Nickloy. “During my NAWBO-Indianapolis presidency I look forward to meeting new members, understanding current business concerns, and addressing resolution to many of the struggles that all businesses face. Women have a unique ability to come together and see problems and more importantly solutions from a different perspective. This is what NAWBO provides and I am honored to be leading the organization for the next year.”
